IX. Draft Proposed Amendments to the Fair Employment and Housing Act Regulations Subcommittee

a. Discussion

Councilmembers Brodsky and Perez presented the proposed amendments to the Fair Employment and Housing Act Regulations (FEHA). Chair Mandelbaum proposed several grammatical changes. Councilmember Brodsky acknowledged receipt of comments from the Transgender Law Center, and the Council agreed that the section defining gender identity and related terms should be amended. The Council agreed that the proposed language regarding assistive animals in disability accommodations should be clarified. Councilmember Brodsky explained the reasoning behind the edits to the definition of “four months” of pregnancy disability leave. Councilmember Perez reviewed the proposed changes to sexual harassment training and introduced the concept of Council guidelines on this topic. Ms. Billotti reviewed proposed the changes to Subchapter 5.

b. Public Comment

Claudia Center commented in favor of repeating statutory language for the sake of clarity. She pointed out several areas in the proposed amendments to the FEHA Regulations where language may be misleading or should otherwise be clarified. Ms. Center encouraged the Council to clarify areas that are unclear through federal regulations, or that should be more protective than federal regulations. Ms. Center expressed her agreement with the proposed language by the Transgender Law Center.
Rachel Langston commented on the clarity and breadth of various provisions in the current FEHA Regulations. She encouraged the Council to replace “four months” with “17 1/3 weeks” of pregnancy disability leave throughout the FEHA regulations to ensure equal leave time. Ms. Langston expressed concern with the proposal to certify trainers for sexual harassment training. She further encouraged the Council to reconsider several disability provisions that might put an undue burden on employees.

Noah Lebowitz, on behalf of CELA, commented that the regulations on pregnancy and disability should not be updated more than necessary, as practitioners are familiar with the current version. He expressed his lack of concern with the regulations being duplicative of the statute if it helps with clarity.

c. Action by Council

The Council unanimously decided to hold off on adopting proposed amendments to the FEHA Regulations at this time.

d. Update on Timeline for Rulemaking

The Council agreed to make the proposed edits and review revised proposed amendments to the FEHA Regulations at the next meeting.
