

HEARING ON CIVIL RIGHTS IN CALIFORNIA'S CENTRAL VALLEY

April 20, 2018

Hugh Burns State Building
2550 Mariposa Street
Fresno, CA

A free, day-long hearing open to the public to take testimony from experts, advocates, and the public about civil rights issues affecting residents of the Central Valley in 2018.

The Fair Employment and Housing Council has statutory authority to promulgate regulations and to hold hearings and issue reports to advance civil rights in California.

The Department of Fair Employment and Housing is the state agency charged with enforcing California's civil rights laws. The mission of the DFEH is to protect the people of California from unlawful discrimination in employment, housing and public accommodations and from hate violence and human trafficking.
